Advanced Power Components signs distribution agreement with K2 Medical Systems

Advanced Power Components Plc, the UK specialist electronics distributor, is pleased to announce that it has signed a distribution agreement with K2 Medical Systems.

The agreement means that K2's fan-less medical panel PC products are now available exclusively through Advanced Power Components' APC Contech unit.

Established in 1999, K2 is an innovation and technology company dedicated to improving patient care. Its purpose built, robust, fan-less panel PCs have been developed to meet the needs of both patients and clinicians in the modern healthcare environment.

Commenting on the distribution agreement, Mark Broadhead, General Manager of APC Contech, said:

"We're thrilled that K2 has chosen APC Contech as the exclusive distributor for its quality medical PC range in the UK and Ireland. APC Contech has vast experience of supplying specialist input devices to the medical sector and K2's products are an excellent addition to our growing line card."
